WHO'S WHO

Angela Willis (Peggy Swift) - has come to the conclusion that she is smitten with theatre. Since moving to TN in 2008, Angela has been in twelve productions at Tusculum, and would love to do more if she "didn't have to eat three times a day!" Her favorite roles would have to be Anna ("The King and I") and Lucy ("You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown"). In addition to making a living and living life, Angela enjoys playing music, traveling, and growing her triple-threat skills. She would like to say thanks to God (for everything) and a dear thank you to GTG for having her along for the ride.

Brandon Moorman (Ben Banks) - Brandon has been doing theatre for 4 years now and has been in everything musical theater to ballet. His most recent show in the area was "The Addams Family Musical," and he is currently working on the Tony award winning rock opera, "American Idiot."

Bree Masters (Tim's Woman) - is a 16-year veteran of Theatre-at-Tusculum. Her first performance at the Capitol was in 2001. She is a licensed fire performance artist and has been a haunt actor for the last two seasons at Nightmare Manor in Talbott, TN.

Carter DelSorbo (Tommy) - is thrilled to be involved in GTG's inaugural performance. He has been involved in theatre in the Greeneville area for 7 years. Most recently, he was Cousin Itt in the "Addams Family" and a ring-leader in "How to Eat Like a Child." He is a high school freshman and an active member of Marilyn duBrisk's GLAWPIGT group.

Cathleen Charleson (Miss Bellamy) is thrilled to be a part of this inaugural GTG production. Originally from Lexington, KY, she spent many years in NYC, appearing Off-Off-Broadway as Emily Dickinson ("The Belle of Amherst"), Millie Montag (the wife in "Fahrenheit 451", NYC musical premiere), and many roles in the original "live soap opera" "Sordid Lives," including Hillary R. Clinton (and her identical cousin from PA), Kookie Gonzalez (based on Gogie Gomez of The Ritz), and Leona Helmsley (where she arguably coined the phrase "You're Fired!"). She has appeared locally most notably as Lt. Nellie Forbush in "South Pacific."

WHO'S WHO

Don Rozar (Red) - is a newcomer to the Greeneville theatre scene. He is a former SCA performer and has been a haunt actor for the past two seasons at Frightmare Manor in Talbott, TN.

Hadley Parker (Kay Banks) - is a senior at Greeneville High School making her debut with GTG as Kay. Having been in plays with the Carson Newman theatre program and the Morristown Theatre Guild, she is super excited for this performance. Hadley enjoys music, running, and hanging out with friends. She hopes you enjoy the show!

Jeff Ward (Mr. Massoula) - is fortunate to have two very talented young daughters and a beautiful wife who puts up with him. Pleased to be a part of this production, he is enjoying the opportunity to work with director Bill Regan again. Recently, Jeff has been in productions at Tusculum College and at NPAC. He has also been seen making a play or two on the soccer field. He is happy to be acting along side his super cool friend Sandy.

Jessie Beth Miller (Miss Josephine) - is a 5th grade teacher at Doak Elementary. She is ecstatic about getting back on the stage again, as it has been many years since she played Dottie in "Noises Off" and Frenchy in "Grease". She is truly blessed to be a part of the Greeneville Theatre Guild's first production.

Josh Beddingfield (Stanley Banks) - is excited to be making his GTG debut as Stanley Banks. He is fairly new to performing, following his children to the stage as they have taken part in many recent area productions. His lovely wife, Courtney works with makeup on many of those shows. The opportunity to share a passion for theatre with his entire family is a special blessing. He is humbled to be playing a role made famous by Hollywood legends Spencer Tracy & Steve Martin.

Katherine Dooly (Delilah) - is glad to join GTG for the 1st show as she returns to the stage after a 3-year break. A life-long theatre geek, she started at age 3 in children's theatre before pursuing it in high school & briefly in college. She has a background in the technical side, even becoming director of her childhood children's theatre. Notable roles include Sheila in "The Boys Next Door," Darlene in "The Diviners" and Lucy in "Ladies in Retirement" in her home state of NC. She works full time & is completing a degree in Museum Studies at Tusculum.

WHO'S WHO

Kinner Flaglor (Buzz) - Kinner is a freshman at Greeneville High School, where he plays trombone in the band. He has appeared in church productions at Cumberland Presbyterian, but this is his first stage role.

Matt Ripley (Buckley Dunstan) returns to the stage for the first time since Theatre-at-Tusculum's '06 production of "Guys and Dolls" where he played the part of Lt. Brannigan. He's a 6th grade math teacher at Chuckey-Doak Middle School where he also coaches the baseball team and is an assistant football coach. Growing up in the theatre, some of his past roles include Pawnee Bill in "Annie Get Your Gun," Abner in "Li'l Abner," and Noah Claypole in "Oliver" among many other productions. He is honored and thrilled to take part in GTG's first production and looks forward to many more.

Michael Fillers (Pete) - Besides singing and acting in many church choruses and plays, Michael has recently been seen on the stage at Tusculum College in "A Christmas Carol" and "12 Angry Men". He also performed on the NPAC stage in "River Song: The Adventures of Tom Sawyer." His major aim is to act and sing in any musical production.

Patsy Fuller (Mrs Pulitzki) started acting in the oldest community theater in TN, the Johnson City Community Theater, in "You Can't Take it With You". Other credits include comedies, comedic melodrama "E 'gad What a Cad" and various Twilight Zone episodes while living in IN. She returned home to East TN to continue her work in public service as the Director of Human Resources for the Town of Greeneville. She enjoys working out at the YMCA, quality time with her son Chris and two grandsons, Walker and Dalton, along with her extended family of pets.

Sandy Nienaber (Ellie Banks) - is very excited to take part in the inaugural production of the GTG. Currently, she is the general manager of Catalyst Coffee Co. downtown and a proud wife and mother. Some of her favorite roles include the Wicked Witch in the "Wizard of Oz," "Maizie in Seussical the Musical," Honey Raye in "Dearly Beloved," Olive in the "Odd Couple" (female version) and all of the "A My Name is Alice" productions.
